Hello ClickLearn

Please read this invite in full.

Here bellow is an invitation banner that we made for you to take part of TelePartout.org endeavour as we would like to record a webcast with your company so that the French Speaking Ecosystem we reach get to learn about the services you offer. TelePartout is a non profit organisation operating in French Canada. If your company does not have a translator to speak up on your behalf, we can provide one.

Secret of Happiness from: ◎ ClickLearn

Tks for the one on one session before your conference to: Marquis: mca@clicklearn.com

Here are 5 essentials to carry into H2 2025:

- "Idiot-proof your processes": A bold ClickLearn expression that hits home for many - the intent not being to insult users, but to acknowledge that everyone forgets important things. Make it simple.
- Email ≠ Change Management: Notification updates about releases and guidance around processes are needed directly inside the workflows, where users do their tasks.
- Guidance across applications: Companies have a huge tech stack, and people need help across apps and step-by-step guidance directly in the flow of work.
- Scalable training that adapts to every update: Teams struggle to scale training and keep training content up to date with the pace of system updates. Did you know you can auto-update this with ClickLearn?
- All in the same boat = community: Your challenges are not yours alone. That's why we created The ClickLearn Community.

Daniel Gauthier
https://linkedin.com/in/danielgauthier